

Ready. Set. Reality.

We are navigating a world defined by challenge and change. Embrace the opportunity, and make a new reality.

Join us for the Virtual Experience Series.

PMI proudly presents our groundbreaking new virtual series now through December, hosted by journalist, television host, and Executive Producer Tamron Hall.

12 November, 8:00 a.m.–1:30 p.m. EST (UTC-5):
Drawing a Map to the Future: A Deep Dive in Business
Analysis

In this fast-paced world, the collaboration between project managers and business analysts has never been more important. Wherever you are on your project management journey, we have the business analysis tools you need to advance your career and enhance the success of your projects.

Don't miss our featured speaker Katie Sowers, Offensive Assistant Coach for the San Francisco 49ers and the first woman and openly gay coach ever to coach in a Super Bowl, as she shows us how to break down barriers and level the playing field.

